A CALENDAR
YEAR

THE
ALBUM
1951

Fred Halmer
editor

It was in 1940 that Adams opened its doors to its first student body. It was in the spring

of 1942 when Adams had its initial commencement.

The Album

made its debut in June. Now, after the Album has recorded the memorable events of nine graduating classes, we, the Album staff followed the desirous tradition of giving to you a remembrance of your happy school days.

With this in mind, we have compiled this book to show our school activities and augment our spirit

We can in no way foresee

now the success of our efforts, but in the years hereafter

if the turning of these pages

brings laughter

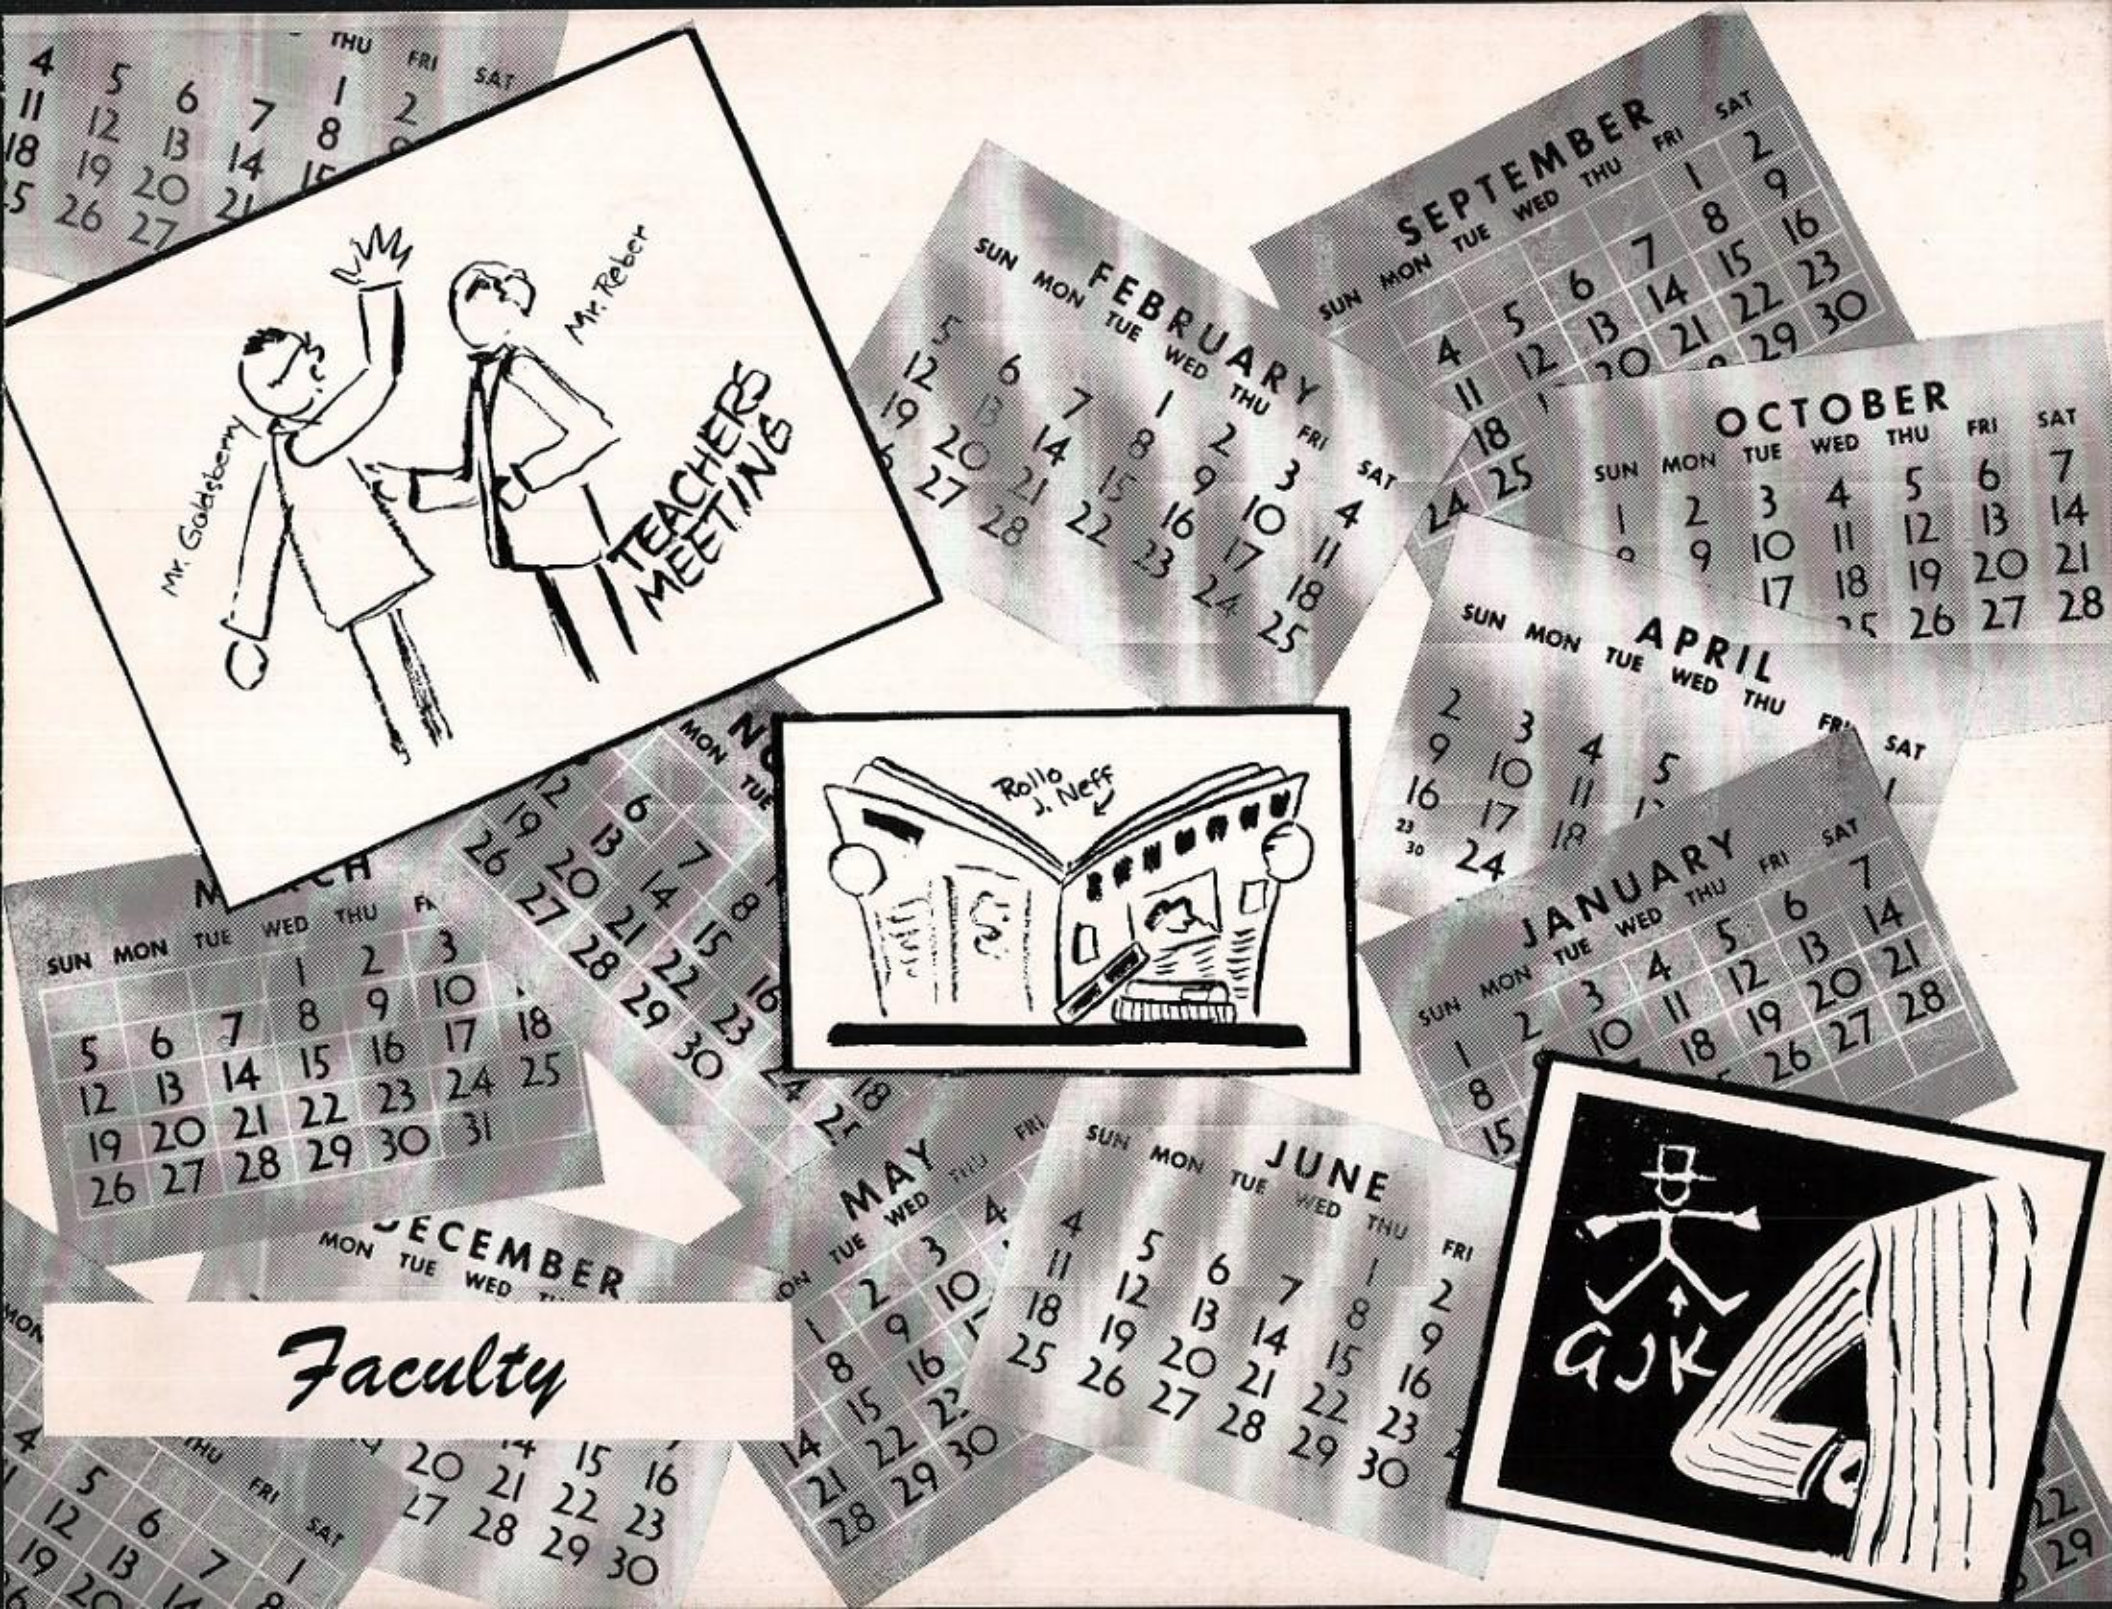

and tears

to you, then our purpose has been fulfilled.

The students of John Adams High School are deeply indebted to our understanding administration and faculty for their guiding influence to our development and their contributions to the success of the school. The faculty and administration of Adams are composed of thirty-two teachers. This fall three new teachers were added — Miss Shively, Mr. Seaborg, and Mr. Seeley. Before the January semester, Mrs. Thompson resigned her position and Mrs. Wilmore took her place on the faculty.

The John Adams Story

From the first class in 1942, to the ninth class in 1950, John Adams High School has graduated 1800 students. These students have come through one of the highest academically rated high schools in northern Indiana, and incidentally one of the very newest.

Of course the entire curriculum of Adams is quite excellent, but there are a few points that are especially high.

The Home Economics department is the most modern in South Bend, with individual kitchen units so that a home-like atmosphere is effected. The units are all metal and are easier to keep clean and won't scratch. Home Ec students at Adams have the benefit of using excellent equipment including silver, china, and crystal to arrange table settings; electric stoves (four new this year), a mix master, a new steam iron, and modern electric sewing machines.

In the Commercial Department students are given thorough business training and are assisted in securing positions through the co-operative office training program. The students learn in an office-like situation with glass partitions between the three business rooms and have the benefit of using the latest model typewriters, a dictaphone, a mimeograph and calculators.

The Adams Industrial Arts Department is the only general shop in South Bend (most schools have unit shops in Junior High level) and teaches skills at senior high school. The general shop covers all the material at less expense. A student at Adams wishing to take industrial subjects has a wide range from which to choose: six semesters of machine shop; four of woodwork; two of crafts, including plastics, ceramics, leather craft, art metal, weaving, and woodcraft; two of graphic arts; and one of general metals, foundry, forge, sheet metal.

The shop program is well organized so that a student can progress at his own rate of speed through the course instead of having to hurry and be left behind by the others.

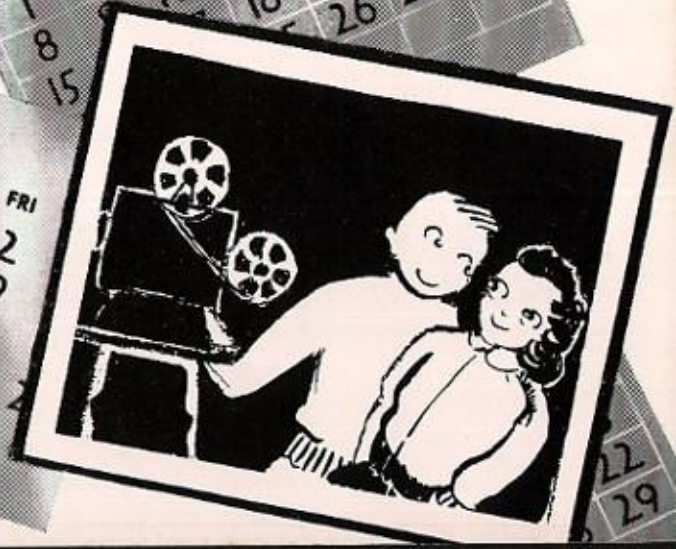

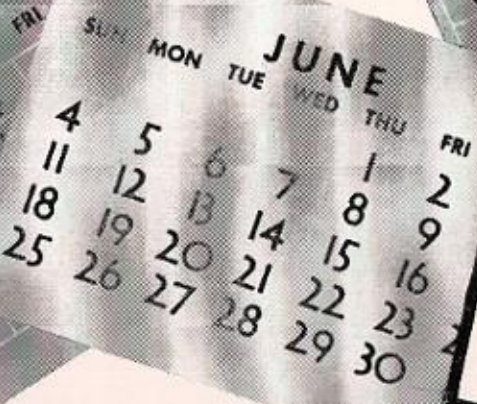

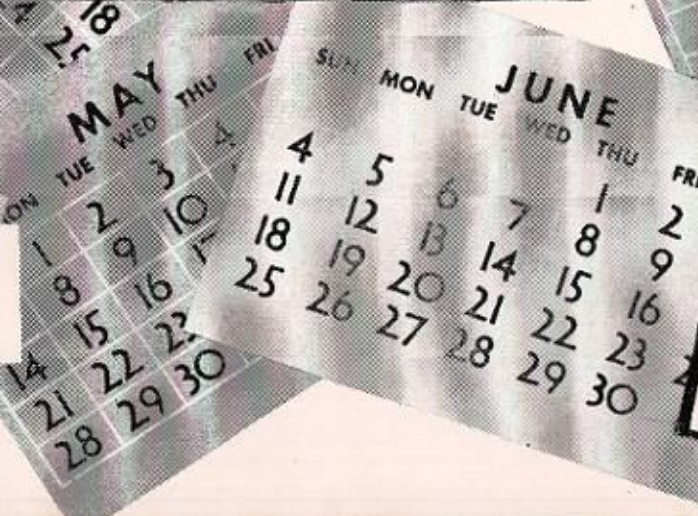

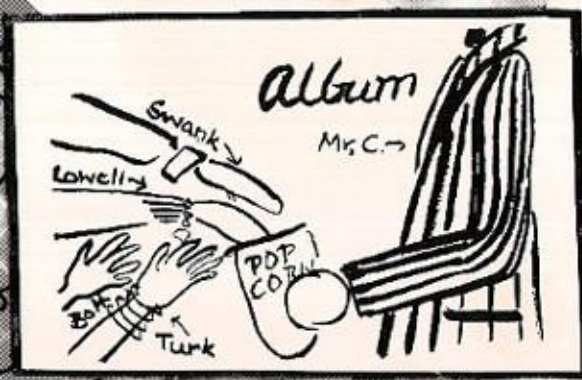

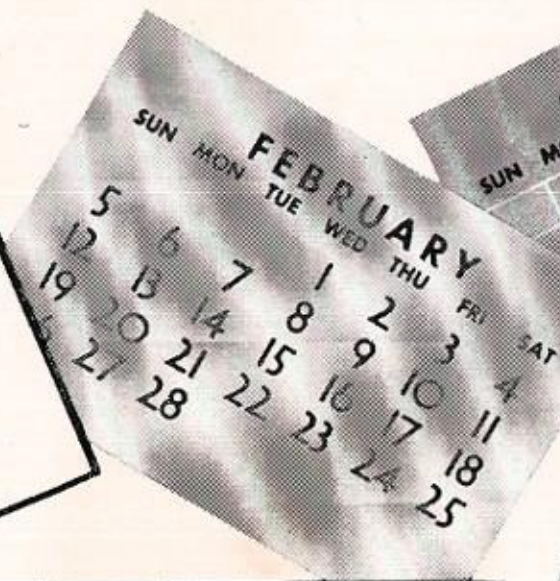

Our Chemistry laboratory, too, is unique in that it has individual work spaces for each student with acid bottles, gas outlets, and electric outlets at each space. Students also have their own personal shelf for papers. Chemicals are centrally located in an efficient arrangement with scales next to them. A good exhaust system is provided and there is also a dark room and plenty of storage space.

Another thing we are proud of at Adams is our gymnasium. It seats 3600 for basketball and 3000 for auditorium purposes. More high school basketball tournaments are played in the Adams gym than in any other in the state. The Adams auditorium is recognized as one of the most beautiful in northern Indiana, and is used by various civic organizations, such as Civic Music and the South Bend Symphony, for concerts. Although the stage accoustics are not good when microphones are not used, its microphone system has been praised by many well-known radio entertainers who have visited the Adams stage.

Many of the 1800 Adams graduates flock back every year to see their old teachers, some of whom taught at Adams in its first year — Mrs. Pate, Miss Burns, Mr. Rothermel, Mr. Reber, Mr. Weir, Miss Roell, Miss Kaczmarek, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Krider, and Mr. Sargent.

The students in the first year waded up to Adams through a sea of mud which surrounded the newly completed school.

In over nine years, the building is little changed, not showing on the surface how its teachers and curriculum have so profoundly affected the lives of 1800 of today's students and giving no sign of how it will affect the lives of the many hundreds more to come.

Clubs

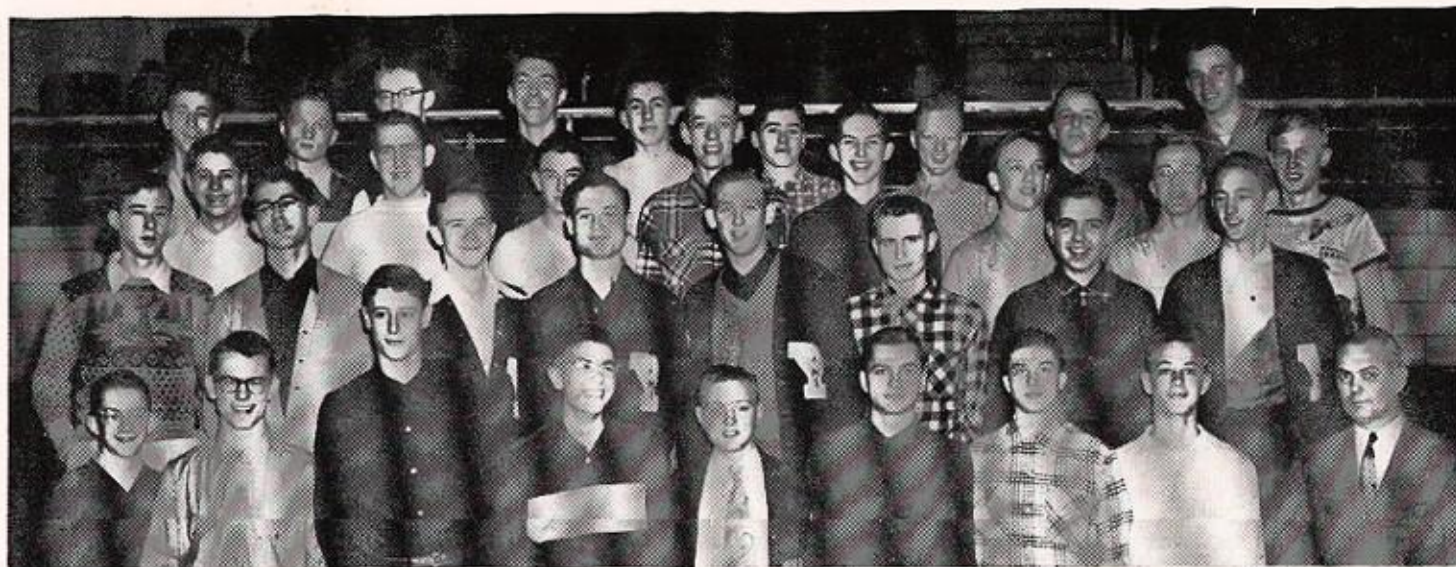

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council serves as the medium through which the student body and the faculty exchange their ideas and beliefs. Under this wholesome situation this year the Council has compiled a Sophomore Handbook and is circulating a petition for stoplights at Jefferson and Twyckenham.

HI-Y

The Adams Hi-Y sponsors many worthwhile projects in school. It is a member of the state and national organizations of the Y. M. C. A. Among its activities were the Swingheart Sway dance, the Christmas Seal sale, and the traditional Easter program.

MONOGRAM

This is an honorary club for boys who have qualified for a letter in any of the varsity sports. The club itself gives awards to the outstanding football and basketball players of the season.

The John Adams chapter of the American Junior Red Cross, besides sponsoring their annual drive for funds, also packed hobby boxes for wounded veterans, and formed a chorus to sing Christmas carols at the St. Joseph County Infirmary.

Officers: Mary Swingendorf, president; Joann Allan, secretary-treasurer, and Jean Gooley, vice-president.

The boys of the Adams Ushers Club capably supervise the crowds at all games, concerts, and entertainments held at our auditorium. These boys hold the appreciation of every member of our student body for their never-ending hard work.

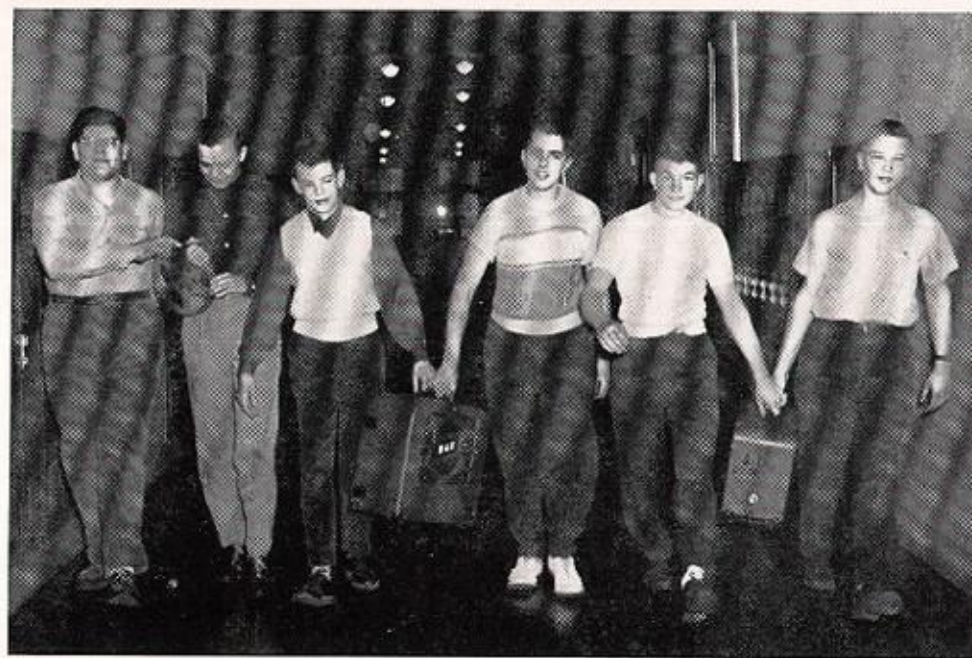

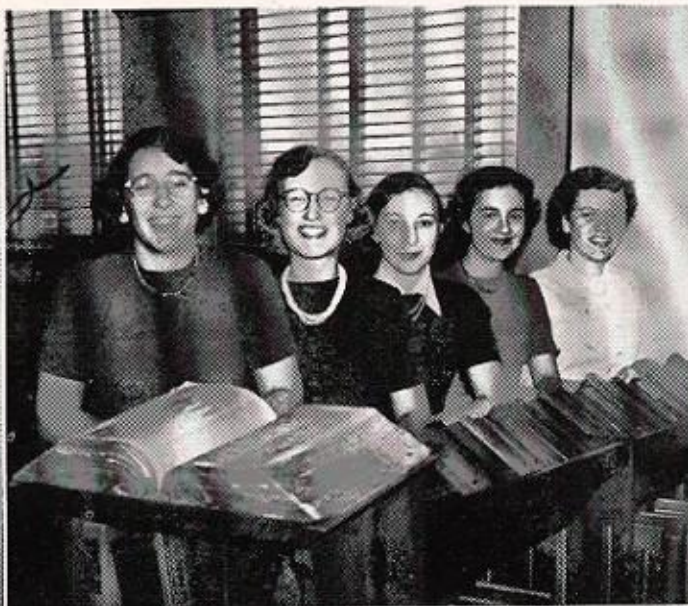

SCREEN

Screen Club members are in action six hours a day, one-hundred eighty days a year to show constructive and worthwhile films for the benefit and education of the students.

Officers: Larry Kreighbaum, president; Bill Inks, vice-president; John Walker, treasurer, and Phil Lee, secretary.

LIBRARY

This service club helps students to find references and books for an aid to school work and for enjoyment in their spare time. Most Adams students would be lost without the assistance of the Library Club members.

This club presents the opportunity of verbal fighting and strategem to those students who enjoy wholesome and active discussion.

DRAMA

Drama Club is for those students who enjoy participation in any part of a dramatic production. In their meetings during the year they were entertained and educated by excerpts from two of Mr. Casaday's Central dramatics class plays.

G. A. A.

This club provides an athletic outlet for those sport-minded girls at Adams who find volleyball, basketball, field hockey, swimming, and softball fun. The girls get much enjoyment from their participation in club activities.

Members: Edna Sharpe, treasurer; Joann Swanson; Marjorie Klien, secretary; Carol Cameron, vice-president; Thelma Demler, Vivian Hartter, and Rosalie Heilman.

Y-TEENS

The Y-Teens are the Y. W. C. A. representatives here at Adams. Their big project for this year was a formal dance at Erskine Country Club called "Starlight Fantasy."

Officers: Pat Fugate, vice-president; Janet Keller, treasurer; Beulah LaPlace, secretary, and Wilma Horvath, president.

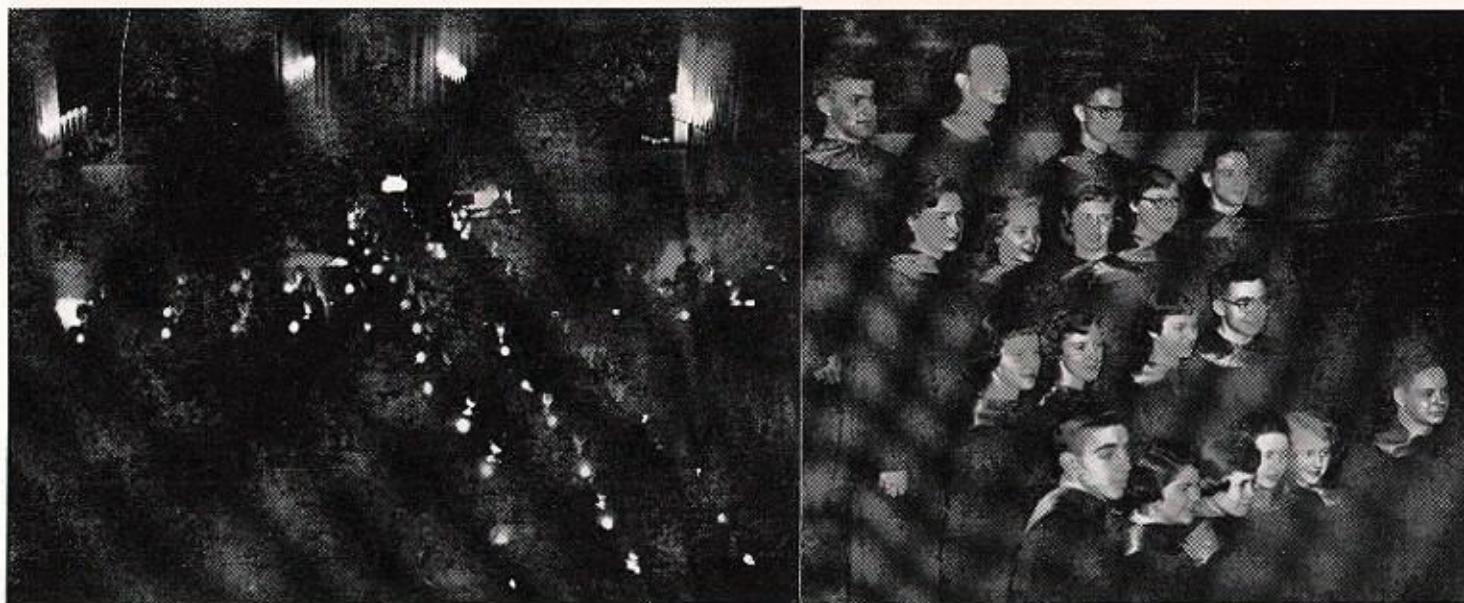

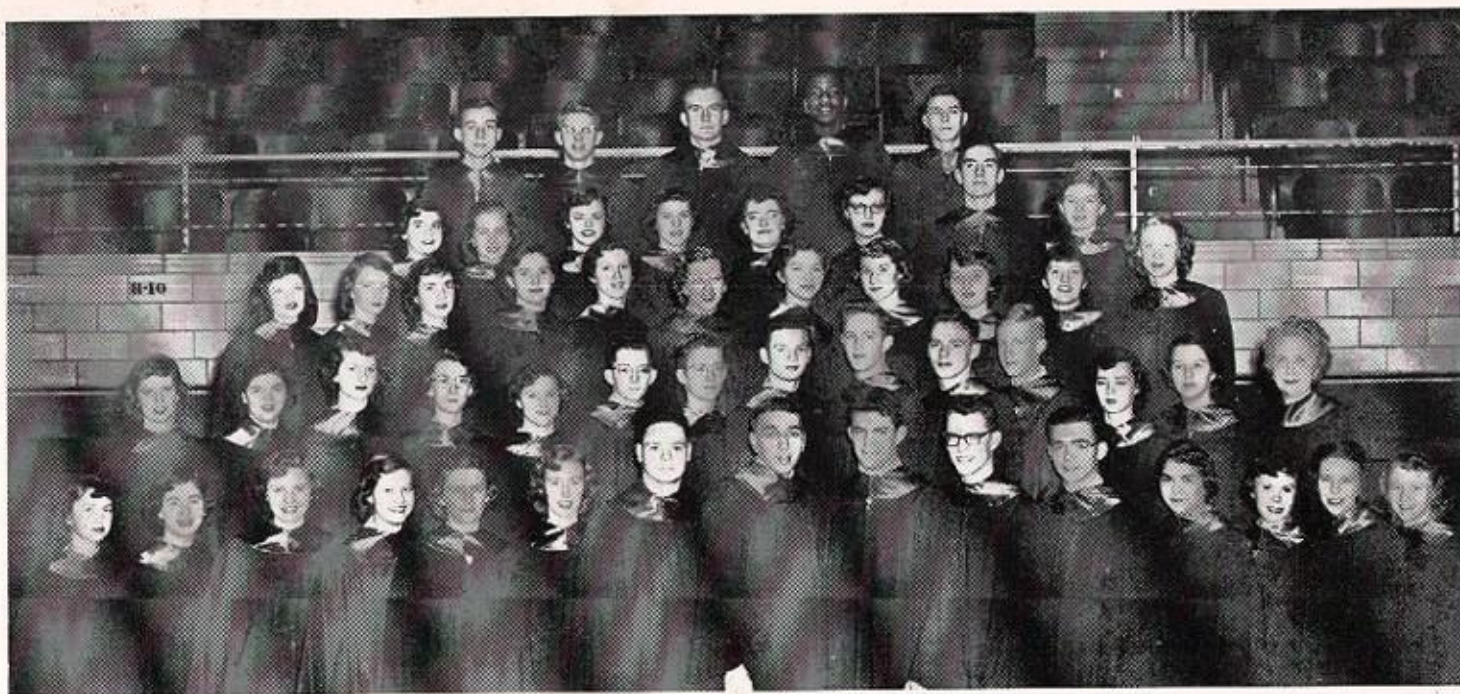

GLEE

The John Adams Glee Club, one of this school's most outstanding organizations, gave programs at Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, and a spring musical in the month of April.

The girls' Triple Trio and the Boys' Double Quartet have sung in a number of programs outside of school.

Officers: Martin Weissert, president; Jean Gooley, vice-president; Sharlee Cissel, Mary Lou Tait, secretaries; Jackie Clemens, Fred La-Cosse, treasurers; Jo Ellen Morris, Margret Carter, librarians; Jay Miller, Marilyn Stegman, Jean Grubbs, Joan Tarr, Joyce Balko, robes; John Smith, Tower reporter; Bob Thompson, co-ordinator. Other Members: Sopranos, J. Allen, R. Bakos, P. Callahan, M. Carter, S. Chambers, B. Crow, N. Culver, E. Earl, S. Fitzsimmons, N. Habart, M. Hibner, M. Jamison, C. Johnson, C. Jones, K. Kindig, M. Williams, J. Worley.

GLEE

The Glee Club sang for commencement and appeared with the three other High School Glee Clubs in the North Central Chorus and sang for Baccalaureate.

Mrs. Lawrence T. Pate is the director and the three accompanists are Lynn Whitman, Sylvia Moran, and Flora Mason.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

This activity has three divisions: Band, Orchestra, and Dance Band.

The Marching Band played at all home football and basketball games and gave two concerts to the school and one at McKinley School.

The Orchestra members participated in the all-city orchestra festival which

Band Members: N. Asper, J. Balko, M. Burke, M. Considine, E. Dean, T. Duncan, A. Dunsmore, J. Foss, P. Grundy, C. Grundy, D. Henderson, S. Jaqua, J. Jennings, C. Jones, M. J. Laure, D. Leslie, P. INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC ended with a concert directed by Edwyn Haymes, conductor of the South Bend Symphony.

The Dance Band furnished the music for such school entertainments as Stardust Cafe and the Monogram Club Sox Hop.

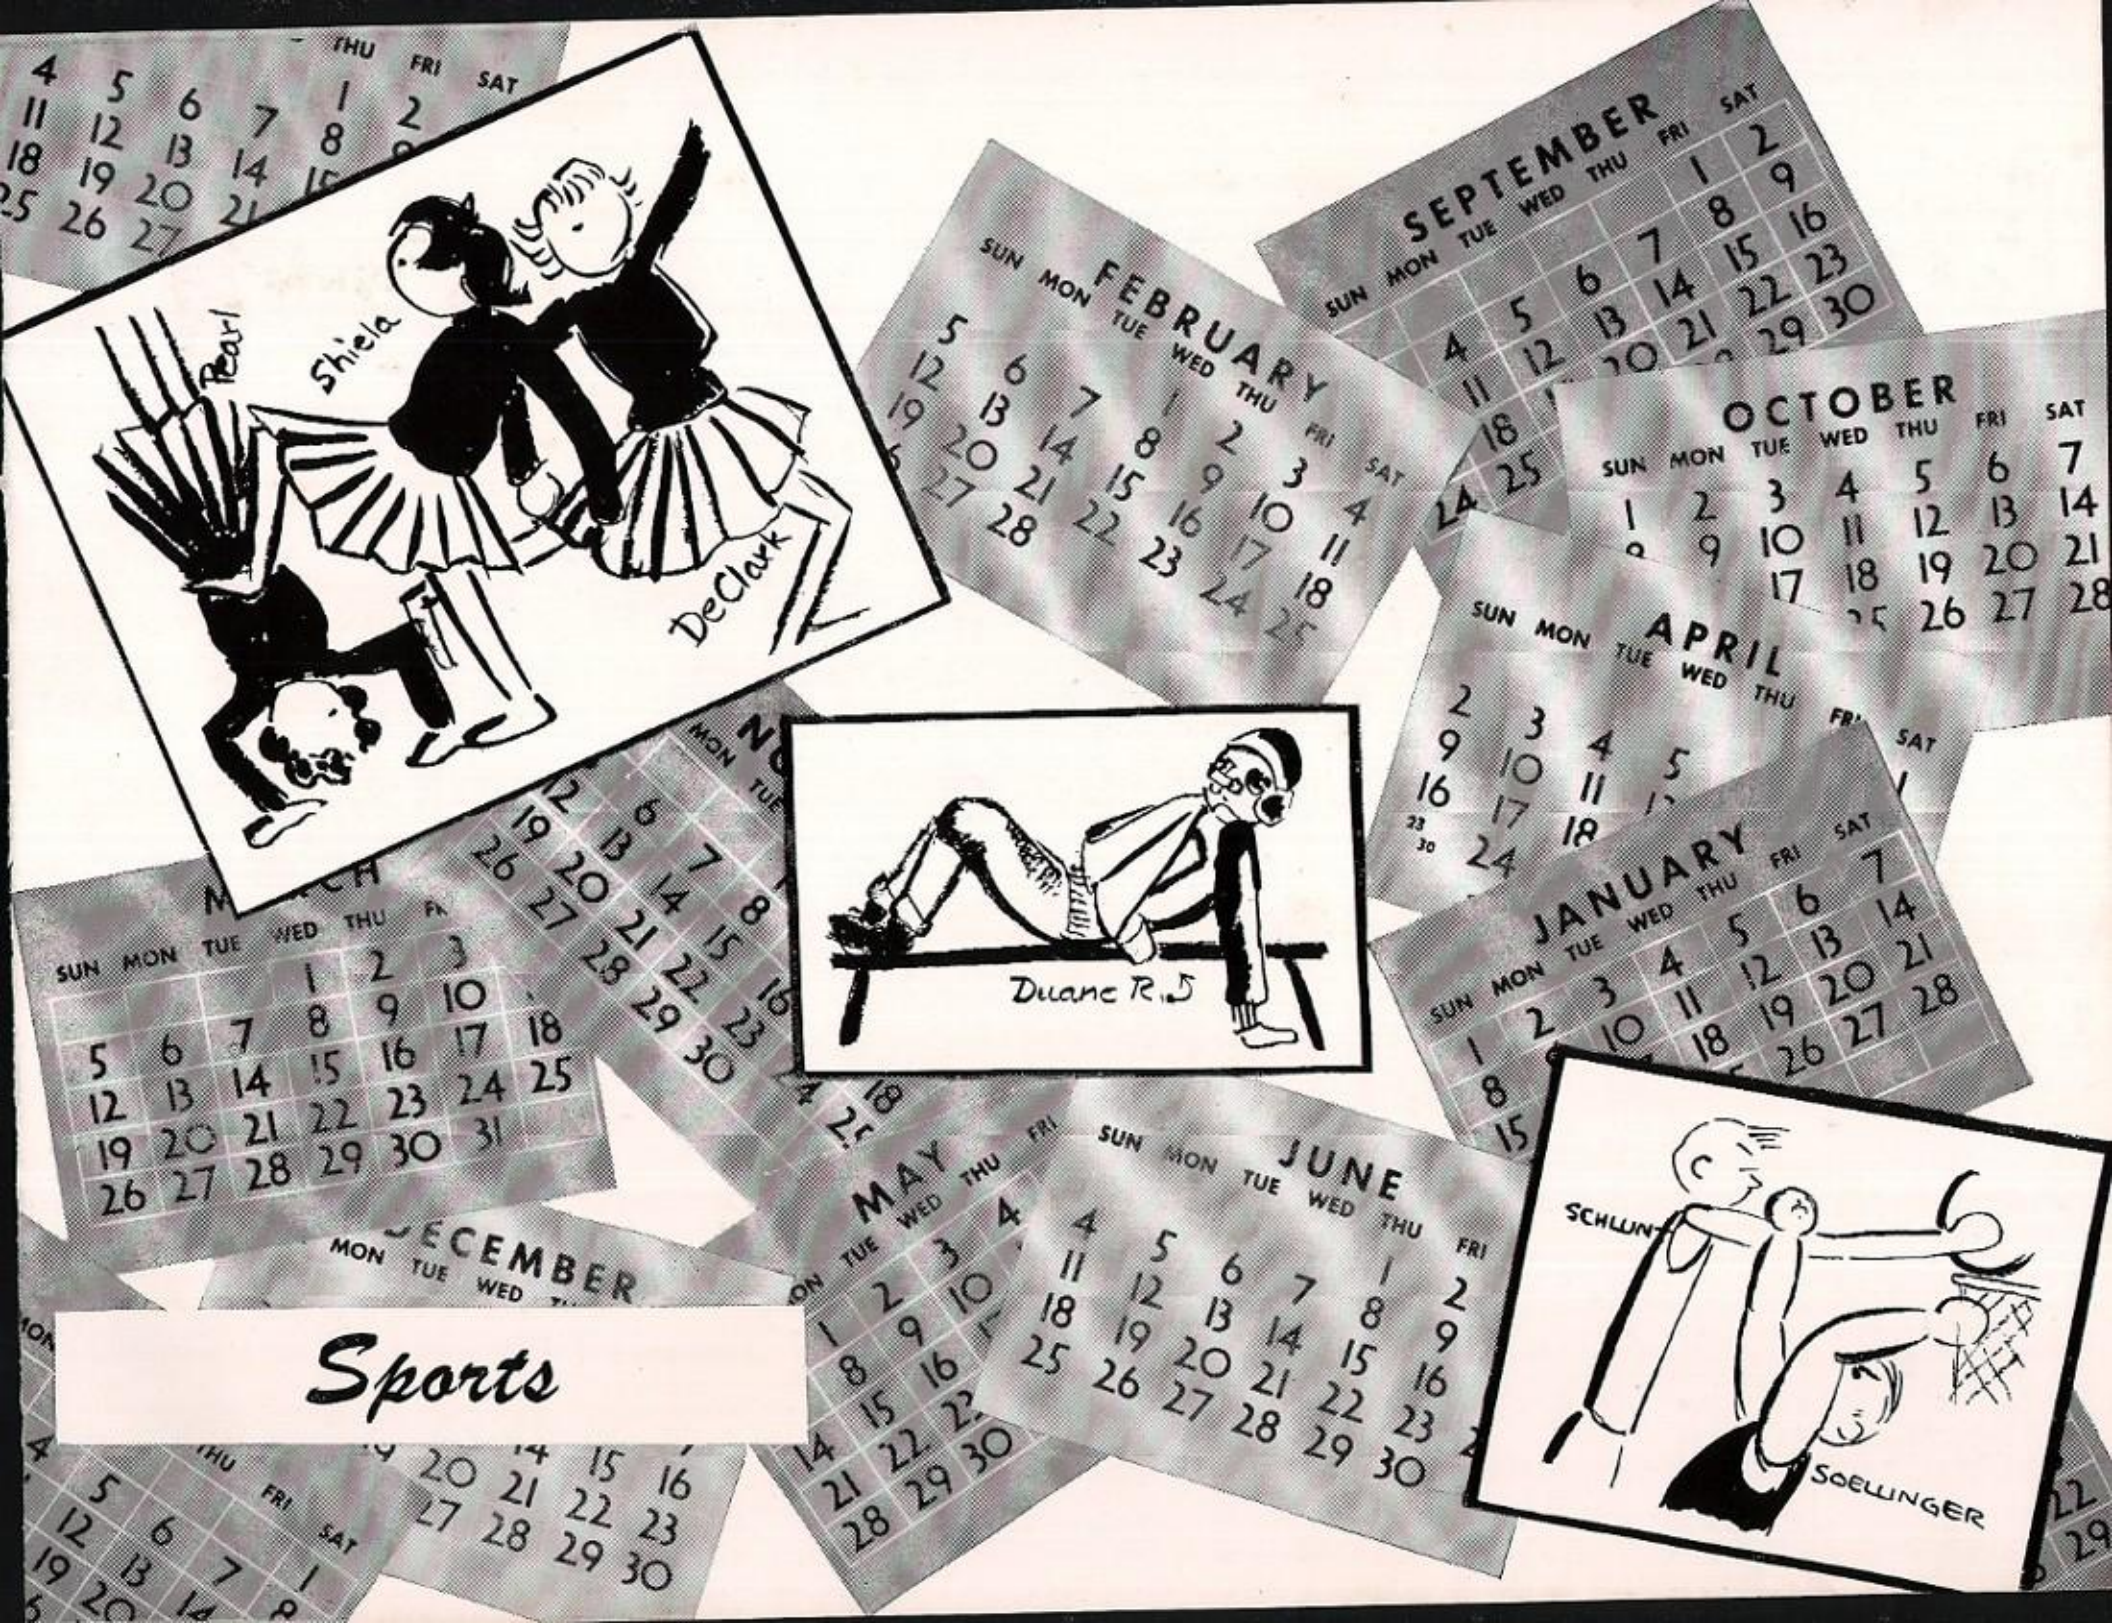

ALBUM

We of the Album staff wipe our brow and pause for a deep sigh now that our task is done. During the year our sanctuary (back of 101) is cluttered with all kinds of originations, but finally, when the deadline is long past due, the book is compiled and happily solicited.

Editors: Fred Helmer, editor-in-chief; Mary Swingendorf and Barb Turk, co-features; Nancy Bolt with Barb Swank, seniors; Mary Demos and Jo Tarr, juniors; RoJean Bakos, sophomores; Judy Campbell, art and clubs; Beverly Morey, assistant; Bill Judson with Fred LaCrosse, sports.

As we Seniors look upon our past, little do we understand where the time has flown. We are only beginning to realize how time slowly narrows its limits upon our lives. As we walk out of Adams into the university of life, we hope that we are equipped with a few of the tools that will help us meet our life's challenge. Thanks to all the faculty for a truly wonderful experience.
